

To Whom it may concern:

Jill Boxrud recently sold our home in a very difficult market. The number of homes in our price sector far exceeded the number of interested buyers and we were very concerned about making the most of the short summer selling season. We knew we needed an agent with a fresh outlook who could “think outside the box.”

Jill waged an impressive sales campaign with artistic and well written advertising, mailings, exposure on numerous websites and frequent open houses. She called us often with new ideas and to give us updates on what her current strategies were. Our best sales tool was Jill’s tenacity! Our home sold within 90 days. Jill has owned several successful businesses and her professionalism in her work as a realtor is so reassuring.

We found the staff at Teton Valley Realty to be a team of energetic, creative people who were eager to help Jill with ideas and support.

We would heartily recommend Jill Boxrud to anyone seeking a real estate professional.

Sincerely,

Joe and Patty Reed
