

We recently sold our home in Victor with the excellent help of our realtor, Jill Boxrud. We initially tried to sell our on own but had very little response. When we decided to list our home, we did so after carefully researching our options. We are pleased to say that we definitely made the right choice. Jill has exceeded our expectations. She worked so hard and employed many avenues for marketing our home. She held an open house and advertised in many different areas. We were constantly showing our house when many others we know with homes for sale are seeing no activity. We found her to always be available to us when we had questions or concerns. She is very knowledgeable about the real estate market and was up front and honest with us while looking after our best interests. She is a fun, delightful person to work with. We would highly recommend Jill for anyone selling or looking for real estate in the Teton Valley. You will find a wonderful realtor and a new friend.
